

Polynesian Cultural Center Employee Newsletter February 14, 1985

UPDATE '85

BE OUR VALENTINE

Spotlight On... Cupid

This week the UPDATE staff interviewed our Valentines guest, Cupid. We asked him about the high volume of arrows he has been using lately at the Polynesian Cultural Center, and to comment on his many successes. Here is an excerpt from our interview.

Eric and Sharon Beaver were married on February 18, 1984

INT: Cupid, we have noticed an increasing volume of arrows being shot on the PCC grounds recently. Can you explain the increase?

CUPID: Well, you know how these college students are. I hardly even need to put any love potion on the tips of my arrows. In fact Tammy Au saw me coming for Celva Boon and jumped in front of the arrow herself just as Bruce Meyers came walking by. You know they were married recently, and I hardly had to do anything.

INT: What are some of the other successes you have had this year?

CUPID: The year started out with a big success as I was flying over the Laie Tours bus and shot Eric Beaver right between the eyes. I think he still has the scar. Anyway he married Sharon Feinga, and soon the entire Department was following his example. Charles Meadows married a pretty bank teller by the name of Berdeen Keawe, Ken Fujiyami bit the bullet, and Heitiare Tuaviau and Terry Panee also took the plunge. The Gateway also provided a good selection of victims as Leslie and John Carvalho were married, Richard Christensen married Valerie Gibb, Fosita Uluave married Leilani, and Louise Kama married Savenaca Kama. Those jobs were very nice as I ate tons of Gateway chicken in the process. Next I tried the concessions to see what their food was like, and I found several willing individuals. Marriages include Stella Afalava and Okisene Ale, and Serena and Paula Mailau.

INT: Sounds like you've been busy! Is this all?

CUPID: Not even close. Just look at the arrows scattered on the walls of the theater. I was able to see that Paki Ngatuvai and Sepi Funaki got married, Curlyn Brown and Nesi Latu followed suit, and they were joined by Vicki and Junior Lauvao. I even got one of yours when I shot Jared Pere and he married Carla Aplaca. Several arrows got astray and next thing I knew Genevieve Jackson from the Maori village had married LeGrand Till from the Brass Band. I don't know how I managed that. Also Kamaka Bridges married Mike Tuia, and they are from the Box Office and the Cashroom respectively. I guess David Betham got an arrow I meant for Elouise Kamaouha because he married Christine Taylor, and Elouise is going on a mission.

INT: What can you tell us of your plans for next year?

CUPID: Well I still haven't got Celva, but I'm a persistent little guy, and I'm sure one of these years I'll do it. Also I've got my eye on Tan Ah Hoy in the Samoan village, but other than that I better not say anything about my plans. Everyone had better watch out though, because I know the PCC is a great place for me, and I just love to vacation here.

Mahana receives her award from UPDATE reporter Jared Pere

“The Great PCC Trivia Marathon”

The Polynesian Cultural Center is pleased to announce “The Great PCC Trivia Marathon,” sponsored by the UPDATE. Beginning with the questions in this issue of the UPDATE, each employee's points will be totalled weekly, adding up to a grade total on March 29. That gives you 7 weeks to begin accumulating points.

Here's the way our contest will work: Each week 5 questions will be published in the UPDATE. Some questions will be worth 1 point, others requiring 2 answers will be worth 2 points. Answer the questions, write your name and department at the top and turn in the completed form to Tammy Au Meyers at the Special Projects office. Your answers will be tabulated and your total points listed. Each week that you participate, your points will accumulate. If you are stumped by some of the questions, answer the rest and turn in your form--all points will be added to each employee's grand total.

Mahana Pulota was last week's winner of the PCC Trivia Marathon. She mentioned how excited she was to win because she has never won anything before. She was presented with a $10.00 gift certificate to the Laie Theater.

This week's questions are:

1. What Tongan structure collapsed during 1982's hurricane Iwa? _____
2. Which Head of State visitor did PCC host last week? _____
3. How many awards did the PCC Halau take last year in the Merry Monarch festival? _____

For 5 points

4. Name 5 of the Center's General Managers since it opened in 1963. _____

For 6 points

5. Name our current PCC Board of Directors. _____

Answers to last weeks questions:

1. Volcano-60ft
2. Freak incident-Tidal wave alert
3. Performers-then 170, now 150
4. Shave Ice-59
5. 12 acres, 42 acres.

This week the UPDATE will award two certificates for free lunches at the PCC snack bar. Lunches include chicken sandwiches and drinks.

Dearest Moli,
I'm not sure if you know me, but I surley know you. I wish I could meet you. I'm kind of on the shy side, so I don't think you'll hear from me after this. I just thought I'd let you know that you're thought of always.

Just me
Matt

Hey Pascal:

It's not the same, before I did not know your name. A paper came and who's to blame, I couldn't pronounce it (your name) all the same. But I wrote a poem a note or two, so you would not be blue.

The time is almost here, the week is nearly through. Tomorrow you will have a clue, what will your secret Valentine do?

This week was lots of fun, now I hope you will not run, Even though this poem will end, I hope that we can always be friends.

Your Secret Valentine

To Our Tech Team,
Float like a butterfly, sting like a bee. Thanks T Team for your help on our activities.

To Pam:

Roses are Red, Violets are Blue, I smell a raise coming my way and I hope you do to.

Celva:

Mirror, mirror on the wall, Celva don't care at all. If she's taken I want to know, I do care and I want her to know.

Fee Fi Fo Fum, Happy Valentines Tammy San

To Mahi:

Spending Valentine's Day without you is like a fish without a bike

To Lee,

All I know that out of all the people that I would spend Valentine's Day with, I would rather spend it with you.

Your very best friend

Hugo,

To a mui guapo dude I watch everyday. How I long to hold your hand and hear the words you say. You're a very special guy whom I feel for so dear, What can I do to let you know I'm here?

Lost-n-confused

To my dearest Kap Pula

There are so many things I need to say about my feelings which increase each day. To watch you walk is heaven to me, to hear you speak is just heavenly. How can I ever express my love but just let you know your always thought of. How can I tell you All This Kine, when I can't even ask you would you be mine!!!

Love your Secret Admirer

To my dearest Maile

You light up my life with sweet delight of compassion and love that no one else could possibly see. That's why I feel the way I do and I hope you will too.

Love your Secret Admirer

Tom Porter (Gateway worker)

I just want to wish you a happy happy Valentines! Do you want to go to the Ball? Not joking!!!

Yours, Thief

My dearest Keola "Gil" King

You delight my soul with heavenly clouds. As you walk past I can feel the warmth of your soul. I dream of being in your arms at night. Oh baby let me hold you tonight. Happy Valentine's Babes!!

Your Secret Admirer

Do you want to go to the preference?

To my Valentine:

I know that we were separated by many days walking, but distance could never weaken our relationship--for what was in our minds and hearts was stronger than any outside force and when we were together again, our relationship became that much more intense and beautiful. (Isn't that right?)

I love you,
TM

Happy Valentine's

To my valentines Kenny, Brian and Gisele

It's true that only time can tell, that the key to a friend in need is listening to each others pleas. Cockroaches here and there, mouses climbing everywhere. We have a game we play with squares! Some people complain, No fair!

The camera will not take, but we find time to take a break. Aloha heard throughout the square, running tourists here and there. The tourists chatter here and there, they wonder why we are so fair. We tell them we are here to prepare our way in this world and we really do care.

I just want to let you know that the rain may come and the sun may glow, but this is what I really know...

That friends we are and friends we'll always be. Together we'll work so happily. Coworkers we'll always be until our time here ends.

Love Vicki

To Magi:

Happy Valentine's Day, Magi, wherever you are.

Love Stella

To Harvey:

This valentine just fits your style Won't you please let me capture your smile, Will you come pose? Bring your beautiful nose, I read your name on the ladies room tile.

Love, Michaelangelo

To Harvey:

Please stop writing our phone number on the bathroom walls!!

Love your wife, Dardy

Eddie, Junior, or Edwin:

What's your name I cannot win, would you please wear the right pin?! For then I cannot sin and call you something like A Just a note to let you know, I think that your good nature shows. Thanks for being a friend of mine, this is from your valentine.

Love Vicki

J.A.P.

This Valentine's Day is so special,
So here is my thought for you: Your kind and respectful, shiny like chrome, but hitch up your pants and go home.

Happy Valentine's Day Mate!!!

To Bryan Bowles,

I hope we will be true friends for a long, long time. Have a "Happy Valentines Day,"

The Flower

To my Lub Alii,

My lub for you is stronger than one Telephone pole and it's longer than one Telephone wire.

Your Unknown Friend

To Ghandi, To Ghandi, To Ghandi:
This valentine note is for you. I would write in your names, but you'd feel so shamed,

To Lisa, To Peka, To Patty.

Dear Boss,

Your smile is nice, your eyes are too. It's a lot of fun to work with you.

You work all day, you work at night to make sure everything's alright.

So on this day of rhymes and love, May you get blessings from above.

--Your secretary

To Max P.

In honor of Valentine's Day, Shirokiya will be delivering your favorite valentine surprise-

a Coconut TO

XXXXXXXXXXXX

Happy Valentine's Day

To Viv:

A Valentine greeting that's warm as can be, from one of your secret admirers... me!

Happy Valentine's Day

Love Lucy

Dear Center employees:

The vital importance and extreme necessity of achieving and maintaining individuality and togetherness comes through loving one another.

Happy Valentine's Day!

Jim Jensen

Your nose is big,
Your heart is too.
God bless you, Sione,
Cause you're a Jew!

"What's black and blue and sits in the gutter?"

Happy Valentine's Day

To V.S.

*You may be brown, and I'm so white, I'ts plain for all to see.
But you're so cute and I'm so glad that you belong to me!*

*Happy Valentine's Day
P.S.*

"C" is for your charming smile

"E" is for your ears

"L" is for your laughing eyes

"V" is 'volunteer'

"A" if always singing

with your head phones on,

Put them all together,

"Celva"--You're the one!

Be My Valentine

(an admirer)

To Security - The Pride of PCC.

I WAS TOLD

TO SUBMIT A POEM

OR SOME OTHER SILLY LINE

TO WISH YOU ALL A HAPPY

VALENTINES.

WELL I'M NO POET

NOR AM I SILLY

BUT JUST AN ORDINARY

RUN OF THE MILL GUY

WHO WANTS TO WISH

ALL OF HIS FRIENDS

A HAPPY VALENTINES.

Alpha 1

There's a girl in Special Projects

Who does her work with ease.

She's fast and real efficient

She must be part Chinese!

-From your secret pal-

*And now abideth faith, hope,
love, these three;*

But the greatest of these is love.

Happy Valentine's Day

David Hannemann

On this day of bows and arrows

Come the Maori and their Wero.

On this day of hearts and cupids

Tonga sound a welcome - Avid

On this day of love and sweathearts

Fiji's lali beat imparts

This day is one of much Aloha.

We say "Talofa" and "Iorana"

On this day called Valentine's

We send our love, and all is fine.

The Villages

To: My roommate, Mother of my children, Our Valentine

A Home, Without You Isn't A Home

When I was a boy, so young and alone

I dreamed that one day, I would have a home

And I say in my dream, your face clearly shown

I felt that a home, without you,
isn't a home.

And as I grew up, and you were not there

Oh, please Lord, Don't let my life be bare

Will I ever meet, and be, with my own

I believe that a home, without her
isn't a home.

Chorus

And then out of the blue, when I saw you, walk in to my life

Immediately, I grabbed you, I married you, and made you mine from one boy to three, and a girl, our family has grown

I know that a home, without you isn't home.

The past has gone on, The present
rules the day

The future is coming on, but will also pass away

And now the children know, the truth I've come to know

We know that a home, without you isn't a home.

Love,

Toalei & Kids

To Joe, Celva, and Tammy:

"For all you do, this one's for you..."

Tying bows, booking shows;

Editing--indexing, these chores are vexing;

Stringing lights, working nights;

Picking up flowers, typing for hours;

Setting up special dinners, getting prizes for winners;

Delivering toys, feeding Choir Boys;

Keeping VIP's dry, picking up RoxSan's pie;

Taking orders for lunch to feed quite a bunch;

Try a night canoe ride with the "Board" by your side;

And never for asking, "Is this in my job description???"

Happy Valentine's Day!

Pam

To Stan:

"Be my Valentine"

Roses are Red, Violets are blue
It's Valentines and I love you.

Lei

Valentine's Day Message

To Maka, Sharon, Joan and Keith:

Our new boss is happy to know that we finally got it all together. But she doesn't know that we forgot where we put those missing PA's

Just kidding. Wish you all a great Valentine's Day, ya hear!!!

Sam

$I r = a(1 + \sin\theta)$ NED

Me

To Norman Faleono

Roses are Red, Violets are Blue
I have a Valentine, but will you be mine too?

Vicki,

I'm thinking and straining my brain for a line

Wishing and hoping for some kind of rhyme

That hopefully will come and arrive just in time

To ask you and plead - will you please be my valentine?

Brian Rueckert

To my secret admirer: (Debbie Haeata)

A secret love is better than no love at all,

But a tangible love is the "best love of all"-

- Albert Fitisemanu

To the employee lunch cooks:

Thanks for all the delicious food you cook for Apai and Naibuka everyday. We love the time you take to cook those meals and hope you'll know that everyone who eats employee lunch enjoys it.

- A hungry theater person

Fasi,

Even though you're mean to me,

I still love you. (You owe me dinner)

Uncle Tommy

Chief,
Happy Valentines from one of the little Indians.

SRR

Kari Andreason,

Don't sit alone at basketball games anymore!!

SRR

To my dear General Manager, Ralph Rodgers:

big load you carry at the Center. I know that you are always trying to make the Center be what it should be, and that you are always doing you Best!

"Happy Valentine's Day, The Beautiful Orchid

Give me an "M"! M

Give me an "A"! A

Give me a "G"! G

Give me an "T"! I

What does that spell?

Absolutely nothing, positively nothing!

Absolutely positively nothing at all!

With love from your favorite dept.

To all PCC Employees:

We raised all your pay, yes it's true

And I expected such great thanks from you

Happy Valentine's Day

Jim'll take it away

And I'm calling my lawyers to sue!

Love, Ralph Rodgers

If you like cheese covered nacho's, swimming at Sunset Beach. If your not into commitment, if you have a kind heart.

If you like taking long romantic drives, with the soul music tape. Come and get me in your Pontiac, and more memories we'll make.

S.L.

(Sung to the familiar tune: "The Pina Colada Song")

To all PCC employees:

Hauoli La Valentines!

Cy Bridges

To my love in Laundry

who makes my life worthwhile because you always brighten my life with gentle words and a smile

May your day be filled with laughter

and remembrance of the love we deeply vowed to one another in the Temple of our God
But if by chance the sun hides its rays,

and your day turns gloomy and blue,

Just remember the sweet moment, my love was created for you.

Eternally,

"Babe"

Jay and Gilbert,

Oranges grow in California, apples grow there too.

But it took old Oahu to grow two fools like you! Nah!

"Da Gang"

To my dearest Fafetai Tauileili

To the boy I love before, you walked right through my door. How you warm my heart and every spark of your smile hits me like a bolt of lightning. My dear HAPPY VALENTINE'S.

True love,

Your Babes! Secret Admirers!

P.S. Do you wanna go to the Ball with me?

To Enese Tauiliili and Migao Tevaga,

Thanks for keeping the grounds near our office so lovely. You work so hard and we appreciate it so much! Happy Valentine's Day! From the Special Projects Staff

Valentine's Day

Today is the day I'll rap my love to you, like the cool mountain rivers find the ocean blue. The first time I seen you in that bright shiny day, you walked right past and took my heart away. I then looked up to see Cupid in the sky, who then shot me with his arrow faster than the eye. When I got hit I fell to the ground and my heart beating for you is what I found. I jumped to my feet and thanked him 1000 times and went off to search for my sweet Valentine. I looked all over, even all the way to town, I then searched Laie, going round and round. My chances then seemed one to ninety-nine, and if you seen a broken heart you probably seen mine.

I gave up hope and my heart turned blue, I couldn't my love, I couldn't find you. I then caught a rainbow to the mighty heaven above, to look for the son of the goddess of love. Well he found I was looking for you with all my might. He told me not to worry but don't be late, and submit my Valentine through PCC's "UPDATE". To my Valentine, wherever you may be, cruise on over and set my love chains free. I will be yours if you'll be mine, so please answer, My Valentine!!

To Pam:

On this Valentine's Day remember that "yes I do, but not with you."

To Fia Mau:

It's difficult for me to concentrate when you are near, so help prevent interruptions-go away.

To Sam Langi:

The more I know you, the more I love my dog.

To Celva:

Forgive me for not paying attention but I'm not deaf- I'm ignoring you.

To Toalei Toelupe:

On every Valentine's day I think of you and am reminded of that saying of old, "You don't have to hang from a nut."

-Anon

To G.S.J,

Fall from an airplane, fall from above, fall from anywhere, but don't fall in love!

G.S.J plus L.G.K.J.

To Herbert, the one I love,
To Muriel who's so full of love,
To Auntie Poua, you brighten my day,

To Trudie and Bryan, Who's always so gay.

To Elroy, my buddy- you really make me so happy,

To John, Steve, Ralph, and Magi, you all drive me crazy!

To Darlene and Tammy, my co-working buddies, who always manage to drive me nutty!

To all of you above I have one thing left to say - Hope you all have a

HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY! Love, Kim Napoleon Be Mine...

You know, da kine.

Joe Chang

Be Mine...

And co sign.

Tyna Chang

To Ralph:

Happy Valentine's day, Ralph, you're fab

Here's a note from the sellers of Tab,

Without you we'd be broke

All there would be is Coke

So keep trying to cut down that flab!

Dear Albert:

Happy Valentines Day, I just want to let you know how much I love my job. Sometimes when I think about it I get so excited, I jump up and down and want to scream and yell and I can hardly contain myself.

Please understand. Love Pele

A Valentine for Maile

If your life were a song

I'd never grow tired of singing you.

If your life were a dance

I would dance all my life to be one with you.

Yet you are neither song nor dance

but a loving friend.

So I will sing and dance all my life

as an expression of my love for you.

Close to you on valentines,

Ron

I was walking through the village with a bow in my hand, I'm looking for Magi, I'm a Cupid man.

I looked all around, and you know who I see, I saw my little Magi under a mango tree. I draw back my bow and let the arrow go. Now you all know who's my honeybee

Your secret pal

Happy Valentines-

To the department with the biggest heart. Best wishes to Support Services personnel.

Johnny Lingo (John Muaina)

Wendy A.,

Because you are my friend, I have no lock on tongue or heart, for you are me- outside of me... A separated part that laughs with me and weeps a tear if I should need a tear, or offers an arm to offset harm whenever harm is near.

A friend's a wonderous thing to have, an earthly prayer come true...and daily I give thanks that I have found such a friend in you.

I Love You,

Steve A.

To my Valentine Winona "Purple Rain"

She's 5 ft. 6 in. and weighs about 137 lbs. Still waiting and available and looking for compassion.

Troubles

To: Ho'o and Hoku

Happy Valentine's Day

Love, Mom-Lei

May your Valentine always bring you happiness and encourage you to excell in all that you do, that your personal and Valentine goals may become realities.

-Haili Pokipala

Darlene, Kim, and Tami,

My motto has always been: "Never go out to meet trouble. If you will just sit still, nine out of ten, someone will intercept it before it reaches you." Thanks for being my interceptors.

Appreciate ya lots,

Steve A.

To Mary Redira:

Just a note to thank you for your exemplary life which strengthens me through difficulties, and brings happiness and enthusiasm to life with your smile and wisdom.

Your a real valentine!

Anon.

WAITANGI DAY CELEBRATION

James Kaka gives a Pukana to approaching visitors

Saturday, February 9 the PCC celebrated its annual Waitangi Day in the Maori village. Waitangi is the name of the Bay in the north of New Zealand where a famous treaty was signed in 1840 by over 200 Maori chiefs and Governor Hobson, the representative of Queen Victoria. The treaty ensured the right of the Maoris to their land, property, fishing and forestry. The chiefs belonged to an organized group of tribal leaders known as The Federation of Chiefs, and they represented the Maori people. Even after this treaty was signed there were continued wars. The British never gained supremacy, and the Maoris became independent. Some of the Paramount Chiefs include men such as Hone Heke, who was one of the very first to sign; Patuone, who was the peacemaker of Christianity; Hongi Hika, a famous strategist, and Ihaka Whaanga. Those chiefs who could not attend sent envoys to represent them. These include a famous chief named TeRau Paraha. These men are considered by the Maoris to be heroes, much the same as George Washington and Thomas Jefferson. The treaty was written by these chiefs, and even though there was continued bloodshed after the treaty was signed, it was the remembrance of this treaty which eventually brought peace to Aotearoa.

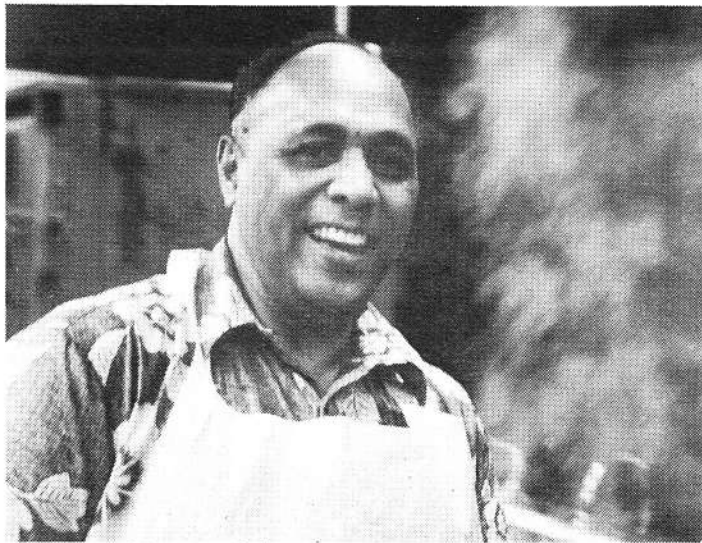

George Kaka gives a speech in his Maori tongue during the Waitangi Day celebration

Maori village workers perform during Waitangi Day

Today the New Zealand Maoris celebrate Waitangi Day by re-enacting the signing of the treaty. Dignitaries from Ngahauewha (The Four Corners) come to participate in the signing and join in the festivities. Brother Kaka from our Maori village mentions that the Waitangi Bay is known as the Bay of Islands and is a very beautiful place to visit.

The celebration on Saturday included traditional ceremonies and lots of singing and dancing, which were enjoyed by both Maori and Gentile alike. We are proud of these great men who sacrificed all they had to see that their people could prosper, and we join with the Maori people in their celebration of this great treaty.

Simi Niumatalolo enjoys cooking chicken in the Gateway Restaurant

EXTRA MILE AWARD

The recipient of our Extra Mile award this week is Simi Niumatalolo, the Gateway Supervisor. Manager Max Purcell says of Simi, "He is hardworking, and always ready to assist when someone needs help." Simi is the man behind the scenes in helping to assure excellent quality food and service to our guests.

Simi puts in long hours and works wherever he is needed. Always smiling and cheerful in his work - we congratulate Simi for being this weeks winner.

Presidential Aide visits PCC

On Friday, February 8th, the Center was visited by Steve Studdert, a personal aide of President Ronald Reagan. Mr. Studdert is a member of the Church, and handles special projects which President Reagan assigns him, such as the Premier of China's visit in January of 1984. During this earlier visit, Mr. Studdert coordinated all of the security precautions for the Premier, and made all of his travel arrangements.

During the original visit, the UPDATE staff was so caught up in the visit of the Premier that we didn't cover Mr. Studdert's work, and so in this issue we honor him. Mr. Studdert was treated to a VIP tour of the villages on Friday, and expressed how much he enjoys coming to the Cultural Center. He mentioned how nice it was to be able to enjoy the Center since his last visit kept him so busy. He especially praised the employees of the Center for how well they represent the Church, and mentioned that he was very proud to represent the Church while the Premier visited.

We congratulate Steve Studdert for his position of responsibility, and wish him well in his endeavors.

Steve Studdert and his daughter intently watch a Fijian dance

Steve Studdert enjoys a luau feast with his family

Mr. Rodger's Neighborhood

by David Rodgers

How exciting Valentine's Day is. Watch tonight how kids wait at the door to see who will bring them a card or a note. You'd think they were about to receive a thousand dollars. Even adults are like that. Probably the first thing you did when you picked up this edition of the UPDATE was quickly scan the Valentines to see if someone had remembered you on this day. Just for a moment there was some excitement in that expectation. It's interesting to see how important recognition and notice from others becomes in our lives.

Seven and a half months ago we were glued to our TV sets watching the biggest sporting event known to man - the 1984 Summer Olympics. We praise the athletes who spend their lives perfecting one event, the swimmers who live in the water, and the gymnasts who spend every day with chalk dust as their best friend. These athletes do all of this for a small medallion and the feeling of importance. Each of us has an innate need to feel important, and we will go to great lengths to have this fulfilled. It is no wonder that the most well-liked people are those who sincerely praise others for accomplishments.

This ability to praise others can be very valuable. The first man in the United States to ever be paid one million dollars a year was Charles Schwab. Andrew Carnegie felt that Mr. Schwab had something worth that much money, and so he hired him. When asked what made him so valuable, Mr. Schwab replied, "I'm just a man of average intelligence, and it's certainly not my education. My talent is in dealing with employees, and helping them to perform better. The key is when I find someone doing something good, I am hearty in my approbation, and lavish in my praise." This seems like it is so simple, and yet it made Charlie Schwab a million dollars.

What a great place the Cultural Center would be if we were all "hearty in our approbation and lavish in our praise." There is no room for criticism and negative comments in our lives. We are above that. The Savior encompassed this idea when He simply said, "Love thy neighbor as thyself." Let each of us determine that we will look for good works, and then be "lavish" in our praise.

OUR SLIP IS SHOWING:

We apologize to Benny and Sharon Kai for not announcing the birth of their baby girl Krishna in last week's UPDATE. Krishna was born on January 5th of this year, and we extend our congratulations to her parents. Benny performs in the night show.

If you know of any other births, marriages, or other important dates, please inform us by calling ext. 3116. Ask for Jared or Dave.

Thursday 14

"HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY"
Satellite Broadcast BBall
BYU/Colorado State 4:35 pm

Friday 15

Devotional 10:30 am CAC
ASBYU Dance, Ballroom 9:30pm
Movie "Heaven Can Wait" 10:00pm

Saturday 16

WVolleyball Tournament
CAC 8am-5pm

Chinese Club Dinner/Dance
Ballroom 7:00-11:00pm

MOVIE "Heaven Can Wait"
6:30, 9:30pm

Monday 18

Washington's Birthday

Tuesday 19

BYU Homecoming Pageant
Auditorium 9:00pm

Wednesday 20

ASBYU Forum A155 10:30am

Film Classic "Cromwell"
Aud. 6:30, 9:30pm

Thursday 21

Know Your Religion
Dan Ludlow
Aud. 7:30pm

Friday 22

Devotional 'Dan Ludlow'
CAC 10:30am

Women's Luncheon
Ballroom 11:30am

Homecoming Ball
Ballroom 9:30pm

MOVIE "Fame"
Aud. 10:00pm