Memorial Day 1990

The American Way We Remember Them

With the arrival of Memorial Day, May 28, 1990, it would be well to remember that in this day's observance we are celebrating death. . . America's Memorial Day began in the aftermath of the Civil War. A day was set aside "for the purpose of strewing flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country.

Let us remember that we do more than celebrate death. We honor all the men and women who show the most tangible way possible their love and belief in America's democratic ideals and their willingness to die in defense of them. We honor those who died as well as those who lived and still live to carry on.

May you all have a safe
Memorial Day Holiday!

IMAX[®] UPDATE

The footings and foundations are 100% complete. The dewatering pumps were turned off over one month ago and it is still dry in the "pit" except for the rain. The waterproofing is working as designed. We are now casting a shadow! (Working above ground) The masonry structure is progressing very well and is now waiting for the steel which will be here the first week of June. Imax projector equipment is scheduled to be delivered in August, with the completion date set for the end of this year.

Dean Wright Accepts New Assignment With Wright Patterson Air Force Base

Dean Wright, Director of Food Services, has accepted a position with Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio. His new assignment will give him responsibility for over 30 Restaurants and Food outlets on the base.

Dean says that this job offer came as a surprise to him because he had interviewed for the position over one year ago and did not expect an offer. He mentioned that this was a tough decision for him to make because he has just really gotten to know everyone and was settling into his new assignment here. He said also that he has thoroughly enjoyed working with Nona and the Concessions staff and with Max and the Gateway, Laundry, and Seamstress staff.

Dean says that this new assignment is close to where his family resides and where he grew up. So he is going home to family.

President Christensen has therefor announced that effective June 1, 1990 the Food Service areas will report to Vernice Pere.

We all wish Dean a fond ALOHA and wish him well in his new assignment.
